CODE COMPLIANCE CORNER PET RULES

Surfside is a pet-friendly town, where pets can be an important part of family life. But with the responsibility of caring for a pet comes the responsibility of keeping and maintaining the pet according to Town Codes.

While dogs, cats and other domestic pets are allowed, the maintenance of horses, poultry, farm animals and non-domesticated pets is prohibited. In addition, the outdoor feeding of stray or feral cats is prohibited as a public nuisance and public health hazard.

One of the most common Code Compliance complaints is barking dogs. The Town Code prohibits loud, frequent, excessive, sustained and habitual barking or howling noise. When this problem is reported, either the Code Compliance Team or the Surfside Police Department will investigate the occurrence. Dog owners should take appropriate measures to ensure that their dogs do not bark excessively to the point that it disturbs their neighbors. This code violation may result in a civil fine.

All dogs must be vaccinated and must wear a substantial, durable collar or harness at all times to which a license tag shall be securely attached.

Dogs must be securely leashed when off their owner's property. If your unleashed dog is found roaming the streets, it is considered a public nuisance and the dog owner is subject to receiving a civil fine. In addition, the dog may be impounded as provided by Miami-Dade County ordinance.

Dogs are not allowed in food establishments or on the public beach unless the dog is a guide or service dog, and the dog's owner is deaf or hard of hearing, or totally or partially physical disabled and the dog is specifically trained for such assistance purpose. However, leashed dogs are allowed on the hard-pack area of the beach.

If you have any questions concerning the keeping of pets, please call the Surfside Code Compliance Team at (305) 861-4863.
